

PETER RAY

Vortex Canada Sales Agent
Ontario

I am an avid outdoor enthusiast enjoying the pursuits of camping, fishing, hunting, archery, and long range precision shooting. I have been involved with Vortex Canada for several years now and can confidently say that Vortex offers some of the most rugged, highly specialized and unique optics for hunting, sporting, tactical and recreational use available on the market today, as well as practical, budget minded pieces for general use.

My goals are to help store operators to gain new customers and sales through a solid product line backed by the best warranty in the business, all brought to them with the highest level of customer service available. I share Vortex Canada's philosophy of maintaining a high level of customer satisfaction through professional and courteous communication and a dedication to delivering fantastic products.

I look forward to contributing to the future growth of Vortex Canada and your business.
